

P. O. E., extend cordial greeting and appreciate the thanks to Mrs. A. H. Hersey, Mrs. T. H. Carter, Miss O'Neill, Mrs. Swiggett-Wilson, Madame Medini Cassidy, Miss Baker, the Mandolins club, and Messrs. McRae and Finlayson.

To the efforts, genius and efforts of these talented ladies and gentlemen do we almost wholly ascribe the success of our ladies' social session recently held at the Broadwater hotel, and we will ever hold their unselfish labors in grateful remembrance.

HEROIC FIREMEN.

Three Lose Life and Others Injured in a Disastrous Fire.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Three firemen were killed, a dozen persons injured and over 200 horses burned to death in a fire which swept the block at B and Second streets, in which were the Knox stables and warehouses early this morning. Besides the Knox and Adams Express company's stables, ten houses were burned. One hundred and fifty horses in the Adams stables were rescued. The loss will exceed a quarter of a million.

The dead firemen are: S. E. Martin, Michael Fenlon and Dennis Donahue. One of the Knox stable employees was burned and may die. Fully a dozen firemen and policemen were severely burned. The injud [sic] is: J. G. Wilson, broken arm; W. R. Kishel, sprained back, seriously injured; Lee Bell, burned about the hands and face; J. A. Hooper, lacerated forehead; Edward Cahill, shorn der broken.

When the rear wall of the Adams stables fell, members of hose company No. 1, and several of the other companies were caught inside. Half a dozen lines of hose were turned upon the burning mass. When the bricks cooled slightly twenty firemen rushed in as many policemen rushed into the building at an awful rate. The walls of the Knox building were liable to fall at any moment and crush the smaller Adams building under them. In a moment the rescuers emerged, dragging the bodies of the three firemen hurt by falling bricks. The heat had been so intense that they were almost baked alive.

A CRAZY TAILOR.

Throws Rocks Through the Windows of Faustman's Palace.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Simon Reskins, a Russian, hurled many stones at the massive residence of Geo. M. Faustman to-day, breaking ten or dozen large plate glass windows. He was arrested, charged with malicious mischief. Reskins is said to be a well known European anarchist. He was held to the criminal court. Shortly after seven o'clock servants in the Faustman residence observed an ill clad, rough looking man pacing back and forth in front of the house. He took stones from the pockets of an overcoat. He had thrown perhaps a dozen rocks, each striking and breaking a pane of glass, when the butler and a man employed in the household rushed out to the sidewalk and seized hold of the stranger. They started to march him toward the Cottage Grove police station, but a few steps further were met by a policeman. The butler, who had prodded himself of course against the United States government and George M. Faustman; said Faustman had thrown him out of work, and that this was not the last Faustman would see of him. Later he admitted he was a tailor by trade, and had not been working at anything for a year.

Mighty in the Truth!

And it will prevail. Against undeclared competition and spurious imitation, the genuine efficacy of the great national tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitter, always and always will prevail. The public recognizes it everywhere as the chief preventive of malaria, and a reliable specific for dyspepsia, constipation, no veneuses, rheumatism, kidney trouble, biliousness, and low spirits. Efforts made by irresponsible dealers to compete with it by indirect means have and will continue to fall upon the heads, and it may be added, the pockets of those making them. Through the length and breadth of the American continent it is the acknowledged household remedy, reliable and prompt. It relies upon facts, upon public experience and upon the emphatic commendation of the medical fraternity.

Mrs. VIOLA EMERY

VOLUMES COULD BE WRITTEN,

Filled with the testimony of women who have been made well and strong by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It's a medicine that's made especially to build up women's strength and to cure women's ailments—an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial, and bracing nervine; purely vegetable, non-alcoholic, and perfectly harmless. For all the functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses that afflict womankind, the "Favorite Prescription" is the only guaranteed remedy.

It must have been the medicine for most women, or it couldn't be sold on any such terms.

Isn't it likely to be the medicine for you? Sold by druggists everywhere.
